R-3, R-P Still Under Study; CUP Ordinance Not Clear

A GREAT HONOR was given Carl Hansen Ford this past week that was shared in by all employees and especially Emory H. Whitney, sales manager, extreme right, when they delivered four new Falcon Rancheros to the Southern California Edison Company.

Carl Hansen Ford Delivers Four Falcon Rancheros

Carl Hansen Ford, under the capable leadership of its owner, Carl Hansen and its very capable Sales Manager Emory H. Whitney, again brought honors to their company and to Sierra Madre when this past week they delivered another fleet of Falcon Rancheros to the Southern California Edison Company.

The delivery of this latest fleet is also a great tribute to the sales and service organization of the Carl Hansen Ford agency which has been a contributing success factor in the operation of this almost 30-year-old dealership.

Carl Hansen, many years ago set the motto and policy of this dealership when he said, "We shall operate this dealership to serve the motoring public in this community with honesty, integrity and service, this is my pledge."

Emory H. Whitney, known to all of us as just "Whit," stated with enthusiasm, "It is no major job to have our employees keep Mr. Hansen's policy, each and every one of them thrive on satisfied and happy customers. It is indeed a pleasure to serve the people of this area," and he concluded his remarks like a true sales manager, in saying, "Don't forget to remind the good people of the area that the final days of our Annual Clearance is fast approaching, and we are ready to make a deal." This is a good group to know.

Commissioner Hartman Chairs Meet

Planning Commission Has Busy Session at Meeting

In the absence of Chairman Couchman, Commissioner Hartman opened the regular monthly meeting of the Sierra Madre Planning Commission, Thursday, Aug. 19, with Commissioners Howell, Levy, Poolman and Berkshire in their respective chairs. Sitting in as representative from the City Council was Councilman King.

The first public hearing on the agenda was a zone reclassification, from R-3 to C, the property just west of the Pangborn building, the applicant being Mr. Skarin.

Since this request was adjacent to commercial zone, the consensus of the Commissioners was that this should be granted.

A Conditional Use Permit for the British Home was granted for the construction of additional living quarters and to enlarge the dining room. Several neighbors spoke in favor of this item, because of the congeniality of the British Home in the neighborhood.

County Begins Drive For Idle

Major push in the war on poverty was launched this week by the county as it began screening 1,200 idle young persons.

Through the neighborhood youth corps, young people from ages 16 to 21 will be screened for part-time work in 30 separate county departments, from the botanic gardens to small craft harbors.

They will be referred by the state office of employment, and will receive $1.26 hourly for 20 to 30 hours of work each week.

According to Carl Terwilliger, county liaison representative with the youth opportunities board, those hired will be "out-of-school, out-of-work youngsters from impoverished families and from poverty areas."

They will be screened during the next few months in offices set up in the basement of the county hall of administration.

Herbert Kaplan, personnel analyst for the county's civil service commission, said that the neighborhood youth corps program has three chief aims:

1-To provide economic assistance while also providing specific job training and work experience.

2-To help young people develop positive attitudes toward work, sound work habits, and the ability to work with other people.

3-To assist in developing marketable skills that will

Suffolk Construction Starts Toward Dec. Completion

Since its enactment as an emergency Ordinance on the night of December 22, and its nullification in February, the R-3, R-P Ordinance concerning the building of Apartment houses, has been under constant study by the Planning Commission, City Council and the citizens of the City. Now at the end of its second Public Hearing before the City Council it has been returned to a study session between the Council and the Commission set for September 16 at the hour of 7:30 by a vote of 4 to 1.

Further clarification is needed, and at the same time it was requested that a competent engineer take a specific R-3 lot of the City and present a plan of construction using the new proposed ordinance. After this study session an ordinance will be presented to the Council.

Hillside Ordinance

Due to receiving a copy of the new proposed Hillside Ordinance just a couple of hours before the scheduled meeting the City Council put over until its next scheduled meeting of September 14 any action relative to same.

Since we are now operating under an emergency interim ordinance, and the same expires on September 7 unless continued, the City Council set a public hearing for Tuesday afternoon, September 7 at the hour of 5 p.m. Since this meeting had been previously called for the hour of 8 p.m. and since certain Councilmen had previous commitments, the legal publication printed on Page 10 of this issue is hereby null and void, and the following legal publication calling the hearing is in force:

9th Fire Call In Ten Days

The Sierra Madre Fire Department answered its 9th call in ten days on Monday afternoon at the hour of 5:25 when they were called to the residence of Mrs. Patricia Cox at 269 E. Laurel.

Upon arrival firemen found a small building in the rear, brush surrounding it, and trees in complete flames. Quick action on their part saved a home, within feet, from any damage.

7th Annual Aqua Fair Aug. 27, 28

Even though summer vacation days are numbered, you can still squeeze in a trip to the South Seas this weekend via Sierra Madre's seventh annual Aqua Fair, "Polynesian Paradise."

Point of departure will be the city swimming pool. Flights will take off at 8 p.m., both Friday and Saturday evenings, August 27 and 28. And you can get aboard for free.

Those taking the trip will have a chance to see the natives (alias members of the water ballet classes) at work as spear fishers, torchbearers, and pearl divers. Oriental girls, hula dancers, and even a couple of sharks will perform.

Aqua Fair Director Roberta Jugant and her classes have labored since June 29 to prepare a relaxing program of synchronized swimming and soft music. Pool manager John Melzian and his staff are preparing props to simulate a tropical setting.

Narrated by Jim Case, master of ceremonies, the tour will also include special swimming demonstrations by tiny tots, beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, and members of the Sierra Madre Swim Team.

Comedy dives and eight swimming races are included on the itinerary, four races to be held on each of

Sierra Madre Shell Service Directs You To Safety Test

On the night of May 24, some 32,000,000 Americans of driving age took part in a unique audience participation television program, the first "National Drivers Test," produced by CBS News with the cooperation of the National Safety Council and sponsored by Shell Oil Company.

Although this was the largest audience that ever watched a sponsored public service program on one network, millions of drivers did not watch the program and test themselves on their

GORDON CALDWELL proudly looks over the Waste King Dishwasher now on display in their new retail store at 43 N. Baldwin. The dishes are a place setting for four that is yours absolutely free with the purchase of a Waste King Dishwasher. The grand opening of their new store is this Saturday, August 28, with door prizes galore.

Gordon Caldwell, left, whose emergency number is 355-6673 and Hal Jordan, right, whose emergency number is 355-7475, will bring either one on the run. The daytime number is 355-0753. Hal Jordan, Gordon Caldwell Plan Prizes, Refreshments For Everyone

One of the liveliest Grand Openings to ever be experienced by the residents of this area will be in full swing this Saturday, August 28, when Hal Jordan and Gordon Caldwell introduce their new retail store of Gem Plumbing now located at 43 North Baldwin.

Gem Plumbing is a name that has been known in Sierra Madre for the past 22 years, and was graciously enhanced when in October 1956 Hal Jordan joined the firm and but a very few months later was joined by Gordon Caldwell at the old address at 27 S. Baldwin Avenue. Shortly thereafter the two boys incorporated and started their long climb to the top of the ladder in the business world.

Hal Jordan and his charming wife Juanita and two children, Robin 11, and Rick 16 live at 92 W. Laurel, and Hal can always be found on the job from early morning until late at night.

Gordon Caldwell and his lovely wife, Mary, are honored with four children, Judy 16, Terri 14, Connie 11, and the man of the family, Jerry 9, living at 161 Grand View. Gordon is another that can be found on the job early in the morning and late in the evenings.

Last year, when it was evident that Suffolk Avenue was sure to become a reality, these two energetic men, knew that their little plumbing business would have to find a new home, and it was from this thinking that they conceived the idea of bringing to Sierra Madre a new feature in business, Sierra Madre's only major appliance store. This feature

Daley's Is Now Open

Daley's is now open and doing business. "It has been a long, long haul," say Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daley as they finally open their doors on Sierra Madre's newest beer dispensing parlor at 322 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

As Theresa stated, "It seemed that we never would get the doors open, as this business has been under planning and building since November of last year, but now we're open and ready to serve you."

Theresa and Frank are not new to Sierra Madre, having lived here for the past six years with their daughter, Kathleen, who is 15, and their son, John, 2½, who is a true native of the city.

This new beer emporium has been built for the comforts of home, where the ladies and gentlemen can stop in for a cool, cool beer after a hard, hot day's work, and while enjoying their favorite brew enjoy the piano, juke box or, if a little exercise is needed, a brisk game of pool.

Sandwiches and knick knacks will be plentiful for those who crave a little food to go along with the liquid.

The opening hours for this new business will be daily from 10 a.m. till 12 and on Fridays and Saturdays the hours will be 10 a.m. till 2 a.m., and open on Sundays.

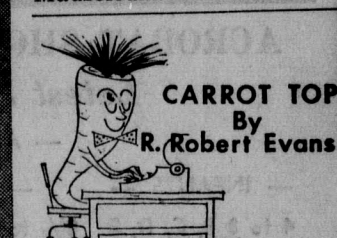

For those who enjoy relaxation, Daley's is the place to go, where a friendly smile and welcome will always be yours for the asking.

Lota Mae Knapp Succumbs Aug. 16

Lota Mae Knapp, age 55, of 149 N. Mountain Trail, Sierra Madre, passed away Monday, August 16 in a Los Angeles Hospital.

Miss Knapp was originally from South English, Iowa, but had made her home in Sierra Madre for the past 12 years.

Services were held at the Ripple Mortuary Chapel, Thursday, August 19. Interment was at the Pasadena Mausoleum.

By R. Robert Evans

The assumption that we will have a hospitable environment between government and business is, I believe, the greatest myth in our business thinking today.

—CT—

Our Federal Government has clearly indicated its full "cooperation" with business if that business conforms to the controls prescribed by the so-called "partnership" program and if it submits to the domination of the particular bureaucracy under whose jurisdiction that particular business falls. The kind of business we are being led, or perhaps forced, into is not free enterprise in the sense that we have known it... our present Administration...

Is exerting its great powers and pressures to make American industry largely a State-controlled enterprise under the seductive concept of "partnership"... Now that I have that off my chest I can settle down to some serious writing...

Dr. Davis, M.D., of the Sierra Madre Medical Center was diagnosing the complaints of a pretty young lady the other day, and gave her the following... "Well, young lady," he said, "one thing for sure, you have acute appendicitis."

The young lady sat up indignantly, "Say, don't get fresh," she said. "I want to be examined, not admired..." which only goes to show you... doctors get 'em, too.

Speaking about doctors... here's one that I heard many, many years ago back in my home town... seems that this particular mother was in to see the doctor relative to the actions of her son, and the conversation went something like this...

"Now, don't you worry about your son for one minute," the hometown doctor reassured the anxious mother. "It's perfectly normal for the boy to like making mud pies. It's perfectly normal if he sometimes tries to eat them." "Well, I don't think it's normal," snapped the mother, "and neither does his wife."

A short time ago, Senator Hruska of Nebraska said, "No longer do we talk about whether federal agencies can be halted before they get too far into the City Hall or the Board of Education offices."

"Now the talk is whether or not it is possible even to preserve the City Hall or those offices... or whether City and School Board officials will have to merge their offices with others already in the Federal Building"...

Rev. Shelby Light Interim Minister At Congregational

The Rev. Shelby J. Light, interim minister at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church, will be in charge of the worship service and will preach at the 10 o'clock hour on Sunday, August 29. Mr. Mert Williams, chairman of the Diaconate, will assist in the service.

Mr. Light assumed the duties of interim minister August 1, but previous commitments have prevented him from being present at the Sunday services. However, he has been meeting with board and getting acquainted with the congregation.

This general area is not new to the minister, for he served an extended interim at the Arcadia Congregational Church. His most recent interim was at Tehachapi. Prior to that he organized two churches for the United Church Conference at Hesperia and at California City. His first pastorate in California was at the North Hollywood Congregational Church.

Born in Illinois, Mr. Light taught school for three years after college, then worked out his Master's degree in British and American History at the University of Illinois. Part of his theological work was taken at Garrett Biblical Institute, with his degree from the University of Chicago. Since coming to California he has done graduate work at the School of Religion at USC, the Southern California School of Theology, a year in special education and American Government at Cal State, L.A., and UC courses in working with the mentally disturbed.

During the interim Mr. Light will continue to make his home in Alhambra with his wife, Betsey, and his son John, a freshman at Cal State, L.A.

Siren Test For Friday

Civil defense sirens of both the city and county of Los Angeles will be tested on Friday, August 27 in the customary month-end test held on the last Friday of each month, Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced.

The test will be held at 10 a.m. and will consist of a two-minute steady wail, 30 seconds of silence and a one-minute undulating sound, said Pitchess.

Murphy-Quick Wedding Vows Recited In S. M. Congregational Church

MRS. BRADLEY LAWRENCE QUICK
... nee Sue Lynn Murphy

Sue Lynn Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murphy, 1015 E. Grand View, Sierra Madre, was united in marriage to Bradley Lawrence Quick, son of Mrs. Mary Ellen Koonce Quick, 469 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, in the Sierra Madre Congregational Church on Aug. 21 at 8 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George W. Lindsay of Pilgrim Congregational Church, Redding, Calif. He was the former minister of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church. The church was decorated with baby's breath and fern around candles on pews down the center aisle. Four candelabra in the altar area were lit by John R. Murphy, the bride's nephew from La Canada. A floral arrangement of pink and white gladioli and stock was the focal point.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white silk organza over tulle and Dior sleeves accented with silk organza rosebuds. The waistband formed a long sash in the back, which was trimmed with rosebuds. Her elbow length tulle illusion veil had a crown of silk organza rosebuds and seed pearl leaves, which was designed by the bride's mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white tephantos and butterfly orchids.

Maid of honor was Mary Murphy, the bride's sister, who wore a floor length dress of pale pink silk organza over tulle in empire style. The elbow length sleeves were banded with white lace, which also encircled the high waistline. The train panel in back was caught at the waist with a fabric rose. Her hat was made with pale pink tulle rosebuds with a face veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sensation roses with white carnations.

The bridesmaids were Patricia Mihalovich, Mrs. Roy Kline and Mrs. Peter Celli, the bridegroom's sister, who all reside in Sierra Madre. Their gowns and hats were identical to the maid of honor's except that they were pale aqua. They carried the same kind of bouquets.

Miss Virginia Levinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Levinson of Temple City, was the flower girl and wore a similar pale pink dress. She carried a white basket trimmed with a pink tulle ruffle.

Best man was Ricardo Espinoza of Los Angeles, a friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were the bride's brother, Jere Murphy from Anaheim; the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Peter Celli; Roger Berkshire and Gary Clark, all of Sierra Madre. Steven Murphy, the bride's nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Murphy of La Canada, was the ringbearer. His white pillow was edged with a pink tulle ruffle.

Don Wernicke, a friend of the bride's family from Dolton, Ill., sang "How Do I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a rose pink silk organza over tulle, floor length gown with matching lace jacket. The mother of the bridegroom wore a floor length gown of blue crepe with lace bodice. They each had a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 300 guests was held at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club. The room was decorated with pink and white, streamers and wedding bells. The serving tables had pink tablecloths with white lace overskirts. Many pink and white floral bouquets adorned the room and stage, where a 4-piece combo entertained the guests. The wedding cake was a five-tiered creation of Mrs. Roland Gutierrez, formerly of Sierra Madre, now living in Philo, Calif. It had pink and white frosting flowers scattered over it. Miss Barbara Cook of Fullerton had charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Ethel Murphy, Juneau, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gale, Washington, D.C., and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Baker, Amarillo, Tex. Other guests were from Dolton, Ill., and Philo, Redding, San Francisco, San Diego and La Jolla, Calif.

For her going-away suit, the bride chose a raspberry colored linen with matching fabric rose buttons. Her hat was the same shade velvet band with a veil. Bone accessories and a gardenia corsage completed her outfit.

The bride was graduated from Pasadena High School and Pasadena City College School of Nursing. The bridegroom also graduated from Pasadena High School and is presently majoring in business administration at Pasadena City College.

After a three-week trip through Santa Barbara, Carmel and Yosemite, the couple will reside at 57 N. Baldwin, Sierra Madre.

of white carnations centered with white orchids. The bride's only jewelry was an heirloom cameo, pearl and diamond lavaliers, worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Magdalen Hillinger.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Williamson of Lafayette and the bridesmaids were Miss Joyce LeVelle and Miss Jean LeVelle of San Diego and Miss Theresa Terrio of Pasadena. They wore gowns of white lace over pale blue satin. The matron of honor wore white lace over ming blue. Their headpieces were matching bouffant nylon veils topped with velvet bows. They carried bouquets of shades of blue and white carnations. Their accessories were white gloves and white slippers.

The petite flower girl was the bride's niece, Catherine Marie Williamson. She wore a gown of pale blue dotted Swiss over taffeta and carried a white basket of blue and white mums and baby's breath.

Kenneth LeVelle of San Diego served as the bridegroom's best man and the ushers were Richard C. Williamson of Sierra Madre, Thomas C. Williamson of Lafayette and Robert LeVelle of San Diego.

Soloist was Robert Helman. Mrs. Celeste Maly of Mundelein, Ill., aunt of the bride, accompanied the most Rev. Hillinger of Chicago.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Williamson chose a two-piece blue silk lace sheath with matching accessories and white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink nylon chiffon gown with matching accessories and her corsage was a white orchid.

Following a wedding trip to Catalina the newlyweds are now at their apartment in Pasadena.

speaking as individuals, had authorized him to make the following statement on their behalf:

"We affirm our support of Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker and Sheriff Peter Pitchess. We also thank the men of their respective departments and of the National Guard and the fire department who have risked their lives to protect the citizens of the county from savagery and the widespread destruction of property.

"The fact that charges of 'police brutality' are being raised from coast to coast, and not just in Los Angeles, indicates that there is an element in our national population which resents all authority. The restrained conduct of the Los Angeles law enforcement personnel under extreme provocation clearly demonstrates the falsity of the voices raised to 'explain' the recent violence, looting and arson in terms of 'police brutality.'

"We condemn the twisted logic — whether it comes from the pulpit or from political office — which seeks to blame a holocaust upon a man or a few men who stood between the rest of us and murder.

"We invite the whole community to join us in this support of the police. Lip service to non-violence is not enough. It is time for all decent and law-abiding citizens, of whatever color, to stand up and be counted and to assume their fair share of responsibility for the maintenance of law and order."

Economic Decline Foreseen Without Rapid Transit

State Senator Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles County, today warned that "Los Angeles is living in a fool's paradise by refusing to adopt long-term solutions to its transportation problems."

"Despite the fact that we now have the tools for local action in metropolitan Los Angeles to develop a comprehensive transit system, we are spending most of our time hoping that the day of reckoning is not really approaching."

The Senator's remarks were addressed to a luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles County Committee of Mayors in the Biltmore Hotel. All 76 cities in the county are represented by the group.

Earlier Sen. Rees addressed the Grand Jury on transit problems and he later spoke to members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee.

"It is my strong opinion that unless we start now to develop a rapid transit system, we will face economic decline in metropolitan Los Angeles," he said.

"Time is running out as our population becomes more and more compact. The bulldozers are today tearing down the single residence dwellings to make way for multi-story apartment houses.

"As population density increases, land prices skyrocket. Once the area has been jammed together to the ultimate compaction which our present inadequate road system will tolerate, it will be too late and too expensive to go back and tear everything down to make way for rapid transit.

"Without mobility our economy will sag. People and industries will move out just as they have in the past from urban cores. Then the taxpayers will face the tremendous burdens of costly urban sprawl and rehabilitation of the urban core. The cost of urban decay then will rise above the cost of rapid transit now.

"I refuse to believe that we cannot mobilize our resources to build a rapid transit system now and thus divert this disaster of decay. The need is too clear for reasonable men to avoid.

"There is a limit to how many freeways can be built around us. There is a limit to the number of cars we can shove out on these freeways and our clogged secondary streets. Our parking lots already take up too much valuable and needed space. Our curb sides are near capacity.

"Even if we began here today to build a rapid transit system it would be eight to 10 years before the commuter would step on the first train. By then our traffic situation is going to be many times more complicated.

"The immediate dilemma we face is relatively minor and involves finding a source for funds to finish transit studies and finalize engineering of a rapid transit system. The district normally has only one source of funds, the fare boxes in buses now running. This source is wholly needed just to keep the buses operating.

"Existing state law, developed by Speaker Jesse Unruh, provides that county boards of supervisors may vote a one-half of one per cent in lieu tax on motor vehicles to develop transit.

"If this tax were levied for one year by a vote of our board of supervisors, a power they have, about $15 million would be raised. This would be adequate, maybe more than adequate, to finalize transit plans for presentation to voters to approve major construction financing.

"This year our supervisors requested legislation which would have allowed them to place the in lieu tax on the ballot for a vote of the people. Their thinking was that only a transit tax voted by the people could be used for any long-term financing and that a one year tax, approved by ordinance by the board, could only be used for a short-term project like planning.

"I agreed with the proposal and understood that the board was willing to adopt by ordinance the one-year levy of an in-lieu tax if they could have the power to later place the entire matter before the voters before extending the tax beyond a year.

"Unfortunately, the proposal was defeated in the Legislature after I had introduced it. The result is that we still have no more than a bus company with a fancy title.

"Rapid transit doesn't come free. If we are to have it we are going to have to dig deep to pay for it just as we have to pay for everything else in life.

"There are several sources from which we can get this initial 'pump priming' money: 1. A small, short-term tax on motor vehicles; 2. A temporary sales tax either on all retail sales or on a specific product like cigarettes; 3. A temporary gas tax; 4. A small, temporary property tax.

"If we can reach some consensus in metropolitan Los Angeles on the source for short-term financing, I am prepared to ask Governor Brown for a special session of the legislature so I can introduce the legislation. If

Sierra Madre Nursery School Ass'n To Start Fall Bridge Marathons

The co-chairmen in charge of the bridge marathons are Mrs. W. A. Scribner, EL 5-0159, and Mrs. Peter Price, SY 6-5958. They are now taking reservations and interested bridge players are advised to call as soon as possible to be sure that they will not miss out on this fun activity.

As this is a ways and means fun-raising activity for the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School, a donation of one dollar a month per player is customary. Activities such as this are the sole means of the association of raising funds for the purchase of new equipment and for the upkeep and improvement of school facilities.

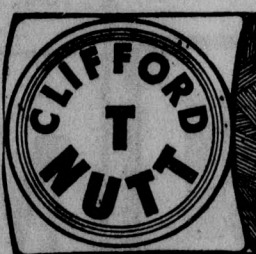

Sierra Madre Community Nursery School is a parent cooperative association staffed by experienced, professional teachers under the guidance of Mrs. Lillian Burke, director. The public is cordially invited to visit the nursery school any morning after the opening of the fall semester.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Meeting

Vacationers welcomed back on Saturday were Mrs. Alice Burley, Mrs. Henrietta Symonds and Mrs. Bernice Olsen. Guests of the day were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Picke, Kansas; Mrs. Katherine Gentry, Palm Springs, and Mrs. Margaret Senour, Sierra Madre.

Following luncheon, president Ridgeway welcomed those present and read an allegory — "The Story of Belinda and the Dragon."

Announcement was made of the big jamboree and birthday party staged for Saturday, September 25 at the Park House.

The program was then presented by Henrietta Symonds who gave an interesting account of her trip by bus and visit in Nebraska.

Shortage of water, she said, caused many farms to be abandoned but in one dry region a well was drilled at the cost of $5,000 which supplied sufficient water for raising corn and alfalfa. Many of the cattle on the farms are purchased months ahead by the packing houses and fed by them.

Some of the places visited by our member were the old family home and cemetery at O'Neal, Neb.; the Normal School where Henrietta received her teacher's training, at Wayne, Neb., where flower baskets decorated the streets of this trim little town; the green and fertile state of Utah with its abundance of water was a contrast to the states suffering from lack of rain. Coffee klatches, family reunions and night club trips were also enjoyed by the happy wanderers, Henrietta Symonds and Bernice Olsen.

United Way Drive Starts Sept. 29 Thru Nov. 23

United Crusade will appeal for a minimum of $20.5 million this year to help keep in operation 244 United Way services and 11 Chapter of the American Red Cross in Los Angeles County. The goal was announced yesterday for the Crusade, September 29 through November 23.

It is really a conservative goal. It is one that can easily be exceeded. And it is one that this region should, in its own interests, oversubscribe.

Consider first our own interests:

United Way health and welfare agencies, and the Red Cross disaster, blood donor services, home nursing training and other activities, came into existence because we need them. These voluntary services are an expression of our concern for our less fortunate neighbors.

These agencies — hospital care, blood donor services, care for abandoned or dependent children — are vital. Our society wouldn't long permit children to die in the streets. If we did not provide this care voluntarily the state would be forced to spend more tax dollars to meet the need — your tax dollars.

But is this any way to run a country? Are we so tight fisted that money needed to save our sick or deprived people must be taken from us by force of law? And does anyone believe that this work could be done better, or for less, by the indirect route of taxation? United Crusade fund-raising costs in its first year were 9.1 per cent and should be even lower this year.

Also, among the services to benefit from this crusade are sources of boys and girls clubs, youth character building programs, delinquency deterrents, educational opportunities, rehabilitation services for the handicapped. In various ways they work to keep the adult of tomorrow out of institutions, off the tax rolls. In supporting these services we build a better community; we give our children and our neighbor's children every possible opportunity to become an effective self-supporting, contributing citizen of a better tomorrow.

This one annual United Crusade for services throughout the region brings us a savings in volunteer manpower. It helps eliminate duplication of services. Unpaid representatives of every contributing community, as members of volunteer budget review committees, carefully review the operating expenditures of every recipient agency. This assures every giver that his money is used in the community's best interest.

As to our ability to oversubscribe this goal — consider that in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1963, a population of 1,754,348 contributed $13,470,722 to the United Appeal. This boils down to a per capita gift of $7.68.

With giving at an equal level, the more than six million people in this region could contribute more than

9th Fire Call

Brush and trees were also quickly extinguished. Cause of the fire could not be determined, but complete investigation is scheduled for its cause.

Sierra Madrans should indeed be proud of their Department which is constantly on the alert and ready to answer the fire call. This is the danger season and all people in the area are asked to be extremely careful with cigarettes, matches and fires, and should one get started, do not hesitate in calling your fire department; they always like to get in on the start of things, they're funny that way.

$45 million.

And all of it would be for the benefit of ourselves, our children, our neighbors.

Muir High School To Offer Credit Classes For Adults

Adults who have been unable to finish their high school education can now do so — at night, Paul R. Dickerson, dean of Educational Services at Pasadena City College, in charge of the West Area campus at John Muir High School, said the classes will be offered at Muir when school opens Monday, September 13.

A full range of academic, elective, and vocational credit courses is being offered, and in some cases credit toward the diploma can be given for attendance at service schools and for work experience. There is no tuition fee, but students are required to purchase their own text books and supplies.

The Extended Day Division of the college is offering a wide range of courses at the PCC campus, Muir and Pasadena High Schools, and at many other locations throughout the school district. The college offers 91 university - equivalent courses for students expecting to transfer to four-year institutions.

Continuing education classes offered by the Extended Day Division include business machines, shorthand, typewriting, leadership training, driver education, lip reading, arts, crafts, music, many shops such as woodworking, electrical, and machine. Many foreign languages are also offered.

Among the many other types of courses being offered are: A new course in piano for those who wish to play for personal satisfaction; it is being offered at Sierra Madre Park House from 9 a.m. to noon, and again from 12:30-3:30 p.m. on Mondays, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret R. Hull. A course in shorthand being offered at Muir; this class meets on Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 115-A under the direction of Sigurd Carlson. "The New Mathematics" is the title of a new course which should be of interest to elementary teachers, parents, and other adults; emphasis will be on the new mathematics program currently in use in Pasadena, and the course is being offered at Pasadena High School, Muir High School, and Foothill Intermediate School at La Canada.

Those interested in more information may contact Extended Day school officials at Pasadena City College, 795-6961, Extension 261.

'MEMOS' FROM YOUR Stylist

By LOLITA

Outdoor activities pose a few problems for the sports-minded woman who doesn't wish the attraction of her hair to play second fiddle to her sports leanings.

Physical action and whipped breezes on golf courses, tennis courts, bridge paths and at the beach play less havoc with "action cuts" which may be new and uncomplicated, but still highly fashionable and becoming. Cuts which stress well-tapered hair, longer at the crown and smooth without bulk, are versatile enough to allow a woman to move from poolside to dinner table with grace and ease.

Whether or not you are the active type, you can't take exception to hair styling or a permanent that adds noticeably to your natural charm. Hair attention of this caliber is to be regularly expected at PETITE BEAUTY SALON, 185 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, EL 5-8041. Every beauty needs . . .

Afternoon Ceremony United Joanne M. Bush and Paul C. Crary, Jr.

MRS. PAUL C. CRARY, JR.
... nee Joanne M. Bush

In the presence of 200 guests, in an afternoon ceremony, on Saturday, August 21, at 4 p.m. in the Freeman Chapel, with Dr. H. Ganse Little officiating, Joanne M. Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Bush of 633 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, became the bride of Paul C. Crary Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Crary of 1968 Camino Ricardo, San Jose.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length sheath dress of white or-gandy over white taffeta. The empire waistline was accented with a band of peau de sole, matching the chapel train. The gown was embroidered with lily of the valley, matching the cascade bouquet that the bride carried. The bride's headpiece was a crown of mother of pearl stephanotis with an elbow length illusion veil.

Serving as maid of honor was Candi Bush, sister of the bride, wearing pink, and the bridesmaids were Jeanne Bush, the bride's sister-in-law, wearing blue, and Janet Battencourt, cousin of the bride, wearing yellow.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of full length chiffon, the bodices of which were white satin with embrodered rosebuds applique on them. Green velvet ribbon accented the empire waistline and elbow length sleeves. The skirts were in lovely pastel shades, one each of pink, yellow and blue, matching the rosebuds applied on the bodice. Headpieces matched the color of the skirt, and the bridesmaids carried nosegays of white spider mums with baby rosebuds, matching the color of the skirts.

Teresa Bush, the bride's niece, served as flower girl. Her gown was a white embroidered chiffon full length, with a green ribbon accenting the empire waistline. She carried a basket of pink rosebuds, accented with baby green ivy.

The best man was Scott Crary, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were Kenneth Bush, Gerald Shelby and Robert A. Battencourt. The newly married couple are honeymooning along the coast, after which they will be at home at 1319 Tripp Ave., San Jose.

Mary Anne Williamson Becomes Bride of Roland Joseph LeVeille

MRS. ROLAND JOSEPH DEVEILLE

A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Williamson of Sierra Madre followed the morning wedding in St. Rita's Catholic Church, Saturday, July 31, of their daughter, Mary Anne, and Roland Joseph LeVeille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland J. LeVeille of San Diego.

Bishop Raymond P. Hillinger of Chicago, an uncle of the bride, performed the impressive ceremony, assisted by Rev. Thomas O'Malley of St. Rita's.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a full length gown of lace over taffeta, designed with a cathedral court train. Her butterfly veil of illusion was held by a seed pearl and lace cap centered by soft peau de sole roses. The bridal bouquet was a cascade house built at 41 Victoria Lane to maintain its 9-inch eave overhang was given thorough discussion. The first motion of the Council to deny the request and uphold the Planning Commission was defeated by a vote of 3-2. Second motion for continuance of the appeal to allow the building was also defeated by a 3-2 vote. The motion to overrule the Commission and allow the Variance and eave overhang was passed by 3-2 majority.

Suffolk Avenue
All resolutions pertaining to the construction of Suffolk Avenue Opening were adopted and passed and the Public Hearings, call for bids were set for October 12. It was the engineer's estimate that this project would take about 45-days construction time and should be completed by December 25. Actual construction should start about October 25. The total cost including a 70 stall parking lot would be $79,000, and be completed under the 1911 and 1931 Act. Complete notices and publications will be forthcoming.

Other Business
Other business before the council was the explanation by the City attorney on the Superior Court granting the City Refuse a permanent injunction from issuing McCormack a rubbish permit, and the explanation where the Suit for Declaratory Relief filed by residents of Foothill against Tract 27459, now stood.

Planning Commission items from their last meeting were reviewed and upheld, and the resolutions setting the tax rate and the money to be raised were adopted and ordered for this issue of the news. All business of the Council having been completed, the meeting was adjourned until 5 p.m. Tuesday, September 7.

Richard is a Pasadena High student and a very outstanding tennis player. In addition to his attending the Christian Youth Fellowship, he has been touring California in tennis competitions.

SEE YOUR DOCTOR

One of the most striking accomplishments of modern medical science is the development of poliomyelitis (Polio) vaccine. In the decade since Dr. Jonas Salk introduced his series of injectable vaccine, polio has ceased to be a major threat to the health of Americans, and the probability is, that polio will soon join smallpox as one of the virtually extinct diseases.

However, the only way that this can come to pass is for every individual to receive the proper immunization with either the injectable or the new oral vaccine. Your family doctor is the best judge as to whether you and your family are properly immunized against this disease. If you have any doubts about your family's protection, you should contact him as soon as possible.

Also — a late bulletin tells us that pediatricians believe that if all susceptible children receive the newer measles vaccines, that this disease would be almost completely eliminated by 1970, truly a wonderful goal to strive for.

So, we at Hartmans again say — SEE YOUR DOCTOR.

Walter Groth Passes Away

Services were held at graveside in the Sierra Madre Cemetery on Saturday, Aug. 21, for Walter Groth, age 83, who passed away this past week.

Originally from Canada, he came to California 12 years ago and resided in Los Angeles.

He leaves to mourn his passing a brother, Dr. Groth, retired, of Sierra Madre; a sister, Dr. Mary Groth of Sierra Madre; a niece, Dr. Lois Groth of Altadena, and a nephew, Dr. George Groth Jr. of Rancho Santa Fe.

Ripple Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Frank Cosse Wins First Place in Music Contest

Against tremendous competition, Frank Cosse won first place in the Accordion Open Solo Division of the Southwestern Youth Music Festival in Long Beach held Aug. 14. This Festival is held yearly and is sponsored by the Music Teachers' Association of California.

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cosse of 322 E. Montecito St. in Sierra Madre. His teacher is Frank Leach.

Medicare Con Men On Prowl

Federal authorities are warning elderly Americans to beware of racketeers posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration and defrauding them by pretending to sign them up for Medicare coverage.

The way these crooks operate is, they show up with official brochures that anyone can get at any Social Security office; they offer to do all the paperwork for you, give you special discounts by filling you early, and numerous other gimmicks.

The thing to remember is that no bona fide Social Security representative will ever try to collect any money, as not a dime is required to sign up; and, too, those persons who are already in Social Security benefit rolls will automatically receive enrollment cards in the mail before Medicare goes into effect next July 1. All others should enroll in person at the nearest Social Security office.

Beware! If anyone comes to your door posing as a Social Security agent, be safe, call the nearest FBI or your police.

SYcamore 7-6934

La Salina, Baja California. I sit here, appreciating this out of the way, isolated little bit of God's country, that will soon be lost to the advances of civilization.

The surf is pounding at my back, and as I look east the majestic hills lie there calm and serene with one giant cleft serving as a landmark for "our" camp. Between the hills and the beach are the gently rolling slopes dotted occasionally with tufts of native grasses and reeds.

As you look along the shore you see bright colored umbrellas and beach towels grouped together companionably. Up on the cliff silhouetted against the sky are eight or ten horses patiently waiting, for what I do not know.

And, in the midst of all is our little trailer city transplanted from Southern California. Somehow these modern pioneers, with the help of the conveniences we know at home, have made the transition from running water, bath tubs, flush w.c., ice cubes in refrigerators and freezers, and lights that turn on with the flick of a finger, to the more primitive way of life of the bucket and dipper days with the "chick sales" out yonder. For light you use candles and torches or Coleman lanterns. Your ice is carefully preserved in chests and you boil the ice water for your dishes. The men in the families take over their rightful heritage of protecting their families by doing the things that strong men have done since time began. They have provided little homes, each in his own way. They had rigged up shelters to protect their wives and children from the elements with the simplest of means, a canvas tarp, a few pieces of rope, poles and stakes. They have built fires to warm them against the chill of the evening, and barbecue pits to feed them.

Camp life is relaxed after the first early morning busting of tidying the camp. We know when we go back it will all be there as we left it—no better and no worse. We'll run again on the treadmill, but we'll have these few precious, never-to-be-forgotten days to cherish as long as we live. Our children will know of the good simple existence and be able to tell their children in years to come. Their children probably will never have an opportunity such as this because even as I am writing progress is catching up in this practically unheard-of little place. As we came down the coast to our destination the signs already are on the wall. Large modern trailer parks are being built and hotels are being planned in the very near future, and to make it easily accessible will be a super highway to replace the rough chuck-holed road we traveled for this rare treat.

You'll hear the ring of the horseshoes as the men of the camp compete for honors. The ladies will wander in to watch the game and chat a moment before going to the ocean to read or bathe in the surf. The young people are varied in their delights. The very young will build crumbling sand castles between playing in the surf and running for the sheer joy of being alive. The teenagers sit around in little groups talking, or singing, or just reading. One group will be off in one direction to the tide pools to observe some of the marine life found among the rocks. Another group might go in the other direction for a long hike along the black sand of the shore.

Whatever they are doing, everyone does it with a relaxed air of no tomorrow.

In a manner of speaking, it is a way of stealing time out of yesterday. There is not a man in camp who does not have a high-pressure existence when he turns home again, but here there is no measure of competition. The greatest problems of the day are centered in the creature comforts of man, not in his bank account. A new sense of "love thy neighbor as thyself" comes to the foreground, because there is finally "time" to show you care. Television has lost importance, the strife of the outside world is waiting in abeyance, telephones are forgotten. Our means of communication is a willing youngster or a loud yell.

ing that Mr. Thayer bring in a more detailed, over-all plan for the development of this property.

Following a lengthy discussion on property lines, easements and other problems, the Commissioners voted 3-2 in favor of granting this request. They felt that even though there were problems, Mr. Thayer had come up with the best way possible to develop this property.

A request from Mr. Zechner of Pasadena, who has bought property at 333 Grand View to build himself a home in Sierra Madre, was denied. Mr. Zechner and his architect were requesting a variance to increase eave overhang. They felt that the contemporary ranch home that was desired needed the increased overhang for improving the looks of the house and for protection from sun and rain.

The Planning Commissioners felt that the applicant was fully aware of the code requirements, and the structure could have been designed to fit those requirements.

The last public hearing on the agenda was Amendments to revise the City Code concerning the notification of persons connected with sub-divisions, Variances and Conditional Use Permits.

The Planning Commission recommended that the Amendments to the City Code not be approved. They felt that the existing code offers more protection for the City as it stands.

New business on the agenda was postponed and a ten-minute recess declared, after which the Planning Commission went over the new proposed Hillside Ordinance that the City Council had sent back for clarification on certain items.

After thoughtful and lengthy discussion on this urgent matter, the meeting was adjourned at 12:45 a.m.

The next regular meeting of the Planning Commission will be Sept. 16, when all interested persons are invited to attend.

Valley Draft Quota Up

Draft quotas for the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley area will be up slightly in September, with 169 men scheduled to be inducted next month through the five selective service boards served by the Pasadena headquarters at 553 S. Lake Ave.

These five boards had quotas of 144 men in July and 149 in August.

A complete breakdown of the September calls assigned by the board is as follows:

Board 87, serving portions of Glendale, 16 men, as compared to 2 in August and 13 in July.

Board 88, serving the Eagle Rock and Highland Park area, 23 men in September; 14, August, and 12, July.

Board 90, which serves parts of Pasadena and Altadena, 22 for September; 8, August, and 24, July.

Board 91, which serves our city and portions of Pasadena, Arcadia and Monrovia, 21 for September; 18, August, and 19, July.

Board 94, which is the second largest in the state, includes Glendora, Azusa, Covina, West Covina, El Monte, Baldwin Park, San Dimas and portions of other valley cities, 87 for September, down from 107 in August but up over July's 75 quota.

These five boards incorporated under the Pasadena office represent a total of 99,899 draft-age registrants.

A spokesman for Major Malcolm F. Miller, district selective service coordinator, said that the October quota for the local boards should be received by September 15.

This October draft call is expected to be the first to show a substantial increase in the quotas in answer to President Johnson's July 28 announcement that he would double the draft calls. While the September draftees are all slated for Army service, the October quotas are scheduled to include some inductees for the Navy for the first time in many years.

The Marine Corps has also recently indicated that it may soon find it necessary to dip into the draftees to fill that part of their quota not brought up to strength by voluntary enlistments.

County Begins Drive

help youths find suitable employment or seek further training.

At present, said Kaplan 6,600 young people are employed parttime in the youth corps "in-school" program. In addition to the 1,200 to be hired by the county in the "out-of-school" phase, the city of Los Angeles is expected to hire 1,500 youths.

The "in-school" program is aimed at aiding potential drop-outs by giving them the financial means to stay in school, while the "out-of-school" program is aimed at those who have already dropped out, or are high school graduates who are unemployed.

Fire Calls

Two calls Sunday for the Sierra Madre Fire Department sent one truck to Monrovia, and the evening call sent the men and truck to 663 Brookside Lane, where a short in the electrical system caused a fire within the walls of the home. Minor damage was done; however much smoke was evident.

Thursday night at approximately 8:30 p.m. the department answered a call in the alley at the rear of Royal Drug where some packing material in a trash container caught fire.

Hank Ives
SEES IT

OUT OF THE MAIL BAG...

MR. W. J. MCCLURE took exception to Old Hankus' comments on the current Dodgers. Excerpts from his letter... "I've never written to a newspaper before, at least in anger, but your assignation statements about the Dodgers just can't go unnoticed."

"How can you call Willis a 'banjo hitter'? If they are so lousy how come they are in first place the best part of the season? John Roseboro is the best catcher in the league. Jim Lefebvre should be the rookie of the year. Walter Alston is certainly the best manager. Put it all together and you should be ashamed to make fun of such a fine ballclub."

THANKS FOR THE pearls of wisdom Mr. McClure. Two paragraphs of retaliation if I may. A banjo hitter is to wit: a player with very little power who dumps sprays and bloop hits frequently out of reach of the opposition. With no home runs and just 23 runs-batted-in, Willis certainly qualifies.

The best part of the season will be the evening of October 3, when and if the Dodgers find themselves in first place. Roseboro is a fine catcher but I'll take Joe Torre. Joe Morgan of the Astros looks like the MV rookie. I sure will agree with you on the Walter Alston best manager bit. He's done a fantastic job. Put it all together and you wonder how the heck they stayed in first place so long.

HAVE YOU NOTICED the strange names in the jockey column at Del Mar? You have DeMello, Apodaca, Pacheco, Ortiz, Cruz, Garcia and Fleming. Even Roy Yaka and Tommie Nakagawa have an occasional winner.

SO DR. ZORBER was unable to patch things up between our girl Kathy Kersh and Ben Casey. Now Kathy is expecting, Dr. Ben treated her shabbily and she will be drawing three or four thousand dollars just to keep the wolf from the door.

JUST THINKING... Will Milwaukee want to play half of the world series in Atlanta should they cop the N.L. pennant?

OLD HANKUS looks for the Rams to be right in the thick of the Western Division fight this year. A healthy Dick Bass would sure help though.

Van Brocklin's Minnesota Vikings should also be fully developed and ready to hurl spears at the Colts, Packers and Bears. One thing for sure, the Western Division will be much tougher than the Browns figure to have things pretty much there own way.

WHICH REMINDS US that: Coaches work night and day.

Striving for precision The referee kicks it all away.

With a single bum decision.

ISN'T THE BUCK parking tab at Dodger Stadium a bit on the high side. Even the Astro dome is cheaper. Come to think of it, ancient rumor had it that "out of towners" probably a polite way of saying mafia, pulled the strings on the parking concession and even O'Malley has nothing to say about it.

SPEAKING OF O'MALLEY, I like this quote, "Our heavy hitters are in the ninth spot." See what I mean Mr. McClure?

LAY LEISHMAN and Bill Nicholas were in Russia cheering for the U.S. track team. What happened fellas?

DON HUNT is serving two weeks duty with the National Guard Service. Wonder if he got in the shooting war in Watts. The Lancer coaches will issue gear on September 1 and start immediate preparation for the season opener against San Mateo.

WITH VIKING SPIRIT pushing him, watch for Native Diver to set Midwestern railbirds on their ears. The Diver is so deserving of "Horse of the Year" honors but must prove it in the flesh to the voters "back yonder."

THE ANGELS are going to play giveaway on September 19 before their clash with Baltimore. It's prize day and the Halos have some goodies for their fans.

LA County Fair
New Feature
Days Of '49

The accent is really on action — even in the exhibits — at this year's Los Angeles County Fair, September 17-October 3. Sam Naman, and the words "animated exhibit" means just about the same thing, for the Los Angeles County Fair, which this year presents the Golden Empire Mine as its newest feature, Naman presents "The Days of '49."

His exhibit depicts miners taking a bath, having a little sip of moonshine, and coming back from the fields of gold. Each character in the exhibit, including the donkey, moves.

All figures are lifelike and lifelike. If you are a twin and not entered in the Twins Contest at the Los Angeles County Fair, then you'd better double time it.

Entries for the fourth annual twins contest close August 31.

Trophy and ribbon awards will be made in 24 different divisions, open to twins from any and all communities of the nation. The Pomona Chapter of Mothers of Twins Club is sponsoring this event.

CW&T Co. Chart 3 Week Course For Personnel

Charles E. Kelley, staff supervisor—construction, for the California Water & Telephone Company was among the 63 engineering and management people from the nation's telephone industry who recently completed the 9th Annual Telephone Engineering Conference at Michigan State University.

The three-week course, designed to update engineering personnel on the ever-expanding technological change in the communication industry, drew participants from independent and Bell System companies in 25 states, including Hawaii.

Kelley is the 18th California Water & Telephone middle management employee successfully to complete the program which is directly oriented to the improvement of customer service.

Obeys Laws To Prevent Major Fires

"Be extra careful now with your matches, cigarettes and smokes," warns City Fire Chief Don T. Hibbard, of Los Angeles. "Mountain brush is getting ripe to make sparks grow to major brush fires."

"The areas where the law forbids smoking are posted, and you'll know when you're entering one. When you do, douse your smokes — right away!"

Even if you're able to hide the smokes from a passing inspector of mountain patrolman, you're still breaking the law, the chief pointed out.

"You may get away with it," he said. "But if you drop a careless spark, start a disastrous brush fire — maybe you won't be able to get fast enough to get away from that!"

So, he suggests . . . Help yourselves, save homes, protect lives and at the same time, keep from breaking the law.

Don't smoke where the signs say not to — especially in our burnable, brush-covered hills.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I've just read about the hospital Medicare plan and it seems to be a "real neat" package. But the nursing home benefit that requires at least three days of pre-hospitalization could work out better for some than for others. Smart Aunt Tilly might have a wheezy spell or a pain in the patella and convince the doctor to admit her to the hospital first. Aunt Sue's doctor might say, "Straight to the nursing home."

The $3-$50 annual deductible-20 per cent payment plan for doctors, surgeons, x-rays, lab, etc., doesn't sound bad either. But what if there's an allowable fee of $7 for a house call and the doctor charges $15, as some now do? Maybe go higher. I don't believe any $6 a month insurance premium will cover 80 per cent of these soaring costs. Could be a ceiling on everything with patient paying the difference. Routine physicals not covered. Again, if Aunt Tilly is smart she's going to complain of a blocked ventricle or an aching tibia and get all the general checkups she wants. Is there a group of old guys and gals who might fare adversely under these plans? Could be. A couple of our income tax lollipops are being taken from us beginning January, 1967, according to the report I've just read. Those who worked in large employee groups and subscribed to a prepaid group medical plan when they were young, and were kept on after retirement, don't fare so badly as things are now. I'm in such a plan and there are no deductions, percentages to pay, or waivers for doctors, surgeons, clinical and lab work. There is a fair hospital benefit but most of us have supplemental coverage. Under today's high hospital costs, no one policy provides effective hospitalization.

I've had excellent service for 35 years. This group might say, in polite words, but meaning, "Now we're sick and tired of your grunts and groans . . . seat . . . the government will take care of you." I'd hate to lose this coverage but we must consider what is best for the greatest number of people. If they let us stay in, of course our income tax will be increased just the same. That's OK with me if it will help others. Under present conditions something like Medicare just about had to happen. But what about our little battered up dollar? How is it going to fare under Medicare, Poverty, Housing, War, Crime, Relief Explosion? Poor little dollar.

Dear Editor:
Being one of the "almost Sierra Madreans" in traveling east to west down Sierra Madre Boulevard five days a week, and also receiving your fine paper, may I make a suggestion through the "Letters to the Editor?"

Both the west side of Baldwin (just below Sierra Madre Blvd.) and the south side of Sierra Madre Blvd. (just west of Baldwin) have a sidewalk mailbox available for mail deposit from one's car.

May I suggest a similar type box on the north side of Sierra Madre Blvd. in the area of the fire station for us east to westers? It sure would help to get one's letters posted, and I think it would help the Sierra Madre branch of the U.S. Post Office show more usage of their facility, thus gain in stature in the postal department's eyes.

—C. E. KIRK, Jr.

On this controversial "Right To Work" Measure which is soon coming before Congress, the proposed Repeal of Section 14 (B), something ardently desired by President Johnson, the labor unions and many Democrats who do not know the result it will have in taking away another of our Constitutional Liberties.

There is involved here a very basic principle, it involves the right of a man to decide for himself the conditions of his employment.

If freedom or individual choice mean anything here is the time and place to make it plain to the American people.

No. 1. Why should this nation have a federal law guaranteeing compulsory Unionism when it doesn't have a law which says if a man wants to work he must belong to a church or a fraternal organization?

No. 2. Why should unions be singled out for special treatment? Unions are private organizations, not governmental.

Section 14 (B) permits states to adopt "Right to Work Laws" if their people want such laws. There is nothing wrong with that. Union bosses and others seeking special privileges oppose the "Right to Work" when they are really only a small minority, between 25 and 30 per cent of the total labor force of the United States. How's that for a minority controlling a majority by power politics? Now the head of state is for that sort of thing. He, who is supposed to represent all the people.

Certainly the unions have enough freedom. They don't deserve government interference to forbid the rights of the states today.

This is a popular issue as well as a proper one . . . Every public opinion gauge or poll shows overwhelming agreement among Americans that men and women should not be forced into union membership, to pass a law making it a crime to preserve freedom of choice is as evil as passing a law that would make it a crime for men to organize a union in the first place.

In this issue we face the conscience of our nation: To outlaw State Right To Work Laws is simply to outlaw freedom of choice.

It is an appalling thing that people who have fought and bled for this principle of Freedom of Choice should be so quiet now. A worker who would not speak up for freedom here and now doesn't deserve a vote.

Now while we are on the Rights Question let us hear from some of the people on States Rights. Everything has not been said and nothing has been permanently settled. Yes, we have Federal edicts and Federal interference in the affairs of the Southern States and so much use of force that the Negro people in a section of Los Angeles took the law into their own hands carried away with the idea that two wrongs make one right, thus throwing the Bible and the Constitution out the window . . . the only remaining things that make for law and order.

Utility Tax Set Firm

The State Board of Equalization today denied protests of its property assessments by 28 utilities and also assessed the value of utilities in 45 cities which collect their own property taxes.

Richard Nevins, Southern California member, announced that the Board's assessments of 192 privately-owned utilities at $4.53 billion, adopted two weeks ago for county tax purposes, became final Tuesday without change.

Firms appearing before the board to protest included Pacific Gas & Electric, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph, American Telephone and Telegraph, Santa Fe and Union Pacific railroads, The Southern Pacific group and the Western Pacific group.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The following is an open letter sent to Senator George L. Murphy and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel:

The Honorable George L. Murphy
The Honorable Thomas H. Kuchel
United States Senate
Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator:

You will shortly be asked to vote upon two measures which not only affect the business climate in the State of California and the Nation as a whole, but which have a direct bearing upon the basic constitution of freedoms or the pocketbook of the individual.

Right-to-work laws represent a fundamental protection of liberty for the individual to select work and associations of his own choosing. Such laws permit him to repudiate union coercion upon him to support politics, principles, and legislation of which he personally disapproves. He can also find refuge in such laws from being forced to support union leaders with economic ideas which are contrary to his own.

It is a matter of record that, in states with right-to-work laws over the ten year period 1953-1963, rates of increase exceeded those in non-right-to-work states in the categories of creation of new jobs, number of production workers, capital expenditures per capita personal income, hourly earnings, population, retail payroll, retail sales and value of life insurance in force. Furthermore, work stoppage due to strike actions in states without right-to-work laws were almost two to one over those with such laws. These are economic facts to be considered.

Public opinion has expressed a need for such laws, and working men, when unfettered from pressures from unions will more often favor such laws than not.

Another measure is the proposed amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act (S. 1986). Although intended to increase employment through decrease in overtime, the framers of this bill have lost sight of practicality. No employer at present premium overtime rates will work an employee overtime when it can be avoided. Overtime occurs generally as a result of unplanned situations and it is practically impossible to hire employees to meet these contingencies.

The net result of such an amendment will be to add more cost to production and services for the American people to bear with little or no increases in total employment. This only serves to encourage further the cost-price inflationary spiral.

We respectfully urge that you consider the unfortunate results that would occur with the passage of both these measures, and that you not only vote against them, but exert your best efforts in persuading your colleagues in the Senate to do likewise.

Flood Hydraulic Study Continues

County supervisors have authorized another year's research aimed at developing answers to a hydraulic problem which has been observed in some of the steeper channels operated by the County Flood Control District.

Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli said an agreement call for the District to pay the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena $14,100 to complete the two year study at its world renowned W. M. Kech Laboratory of Hydraulics and Water Resources.

According to Bonelli District hydraulic engineers have noted that storm flows in some of its steep channels do not run at a uniform depth but are characterized by "wave fronts" which travel downstream at a faster velocity than the water.

The crest of these traveling waves may be several times as deep as the flow between them and complicates hydraulic measuring, Bonelli pointed out.

This action differs from water flowing in the less steep channels which moves along in a more or less smooth fashion at relatively constant depths.

Caltech engineers are making theoretical and laboratory tests to develop, if possible, answers to such questions as the cause of the phenomenon; its growth, limits (if any); and means of preventing or controlling it after formation.

FLOURNOY REPORT

Among the many frustrations of the 1965 state legislature was its failure to act on rapid transit for Los Angeles County.

No one argues the need. Bumper to bumper freeway traffic in peak hours has long since established this. Nor is there argument about a basic plan. Transit corridors tentatively proposed have won near unanimous support of Los Angeles and surrounding cities.

The sole argument now revolves around financing the remaining studies necessary to submit a construction bond issue to the voters.

This stumbling block appeared removed when the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors agreed conditionally to levy a one-time-only one-half per cent in lieu tax to lay the groundwork for the system. The condition the board laid down was that the state legislature permit citizens of Los Angeles County, by a 60 per cent margin, to vote either a sales tax or a one per cent motor vehicle license fee tax in order to assure completion of the construction studies.

The board's action appeared to clear the way for legislation at the state level which could surmount this financial impasse.

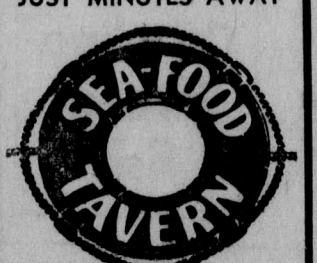

Yet, to the surprise of many, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh came out in opposition to the legislation, claiming there was something "incongruous" about the state taking part in this enabling legislation. The Speaker's opposition was hardly given voice before the Unruh-dominated Assembly Transportation Committee began to hedge, called for "further study," and otherwise brought about a still-born death of this legislation in committee.

It would certainly seem that the first order of business at the special session this fall should be rapid transit for Los Angeles County.

Taken out of the confusion of the general session just past and handled in full public view perhaps our citizens could then make their wishes felt.

I most certainly urge Governor Brown to show his concern by placing this crucial problem on the agenda.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK—millions leave them there!

NIGHT and DAY

In mills and factories across the country, they never stop working. By night as well as by day, the wheels of commerce grind out the goods we need as a nation.

It's a twenty-four hour job, this business of production, and it's a vital job — to you, your family, your town, our whole country. Like most vital jobs, it can't be stopped.

Faith is a vital job, too. It isn't simply something that God gives you, free of charge, on Christmas and at Easter. You have to work for real faith. You have to earn it. You have to keep at it.

Fortunately, to help you gain and sustain this vital faith, you have the Church to guide you. Start attending every Sunday and there absorb the wonders of God's teachings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Nehemiah 4:1-23	Psalms 104:24-35	Matthew 24:36-44	Luke 13:10-17	John 6:26-34	1 Corinthians 3:10-15	Ephesians 2:1-10

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Editorially Speaking...

Politics!

California's full cauldron of potential political excitement for 1966, already near the bubbling point, has been seasoned with a dash of speculation and a prospect of internecine warfare in both parties which could make the campaign next year one of the liveliest ever.

The speculators are playing with the question of what would happen if Senator Thomas Kuchel had to resign in order to run for the governorship, and did so.

Would Governor Pat Brown, 60 years of age and longing for a place in the Washington sun, resign and have himself appointed to fill Kuchel's seat?

After 22 years of public service in California, not relishing another four years as Governor in constant abrasion with Jesse Unruh and other party leaders who frequently disagree with his policies—and unable to foresee any possibility of a federal appointment—Brown might find the prospect of a Senate seat tremendously appealing. Particularly if he had any real fears about losing a direct encounter with Kuchel, as the polls show he might.

And if he took the Senate seat unto himself, would we see a wide open Democratic primary involving Unruh Mayor Yorty of Los Angeles, Glenn Anderson, Alan Cranston and others competing for the gubernatorial nomination? Or would alliances within that group narrow the field to two, perhaps Yorty and Anderson?

Brown would still face a rugged campaign if he moved into the Senate, since he would have to run in 1966 for the remaining two years of Kuchel's present term, and if he won then he would face an additional race in 1968 for the full six-year term. It's a high price, but eight years in Washington might seem worth the risk, particularly if he believes the Republicans have no one else on hand with a chance of beating him.

Meanwhile, a move is afoot which could deepen political schisms in both California parties next year. Conservative Republicans and liberal Democrats reportedly may join forces in support of an initiative measure which would equalize incumbent office holders and non-incumbent nominees in the number of appointees each has to his party's State Central Committee.

Last year, as part of a GOP effort to prevent a conservative takeover of the Central Committee, the Legislature gave incumbents eight appointments compared to three for unsuccessful candidates.

The conservatives are now fighting back for "equal voting rights." The California Republican Assembly will begin in October a drive to obtain 480,000 signatures to qualify an initiative to repeal the present ratio.

A bruising battle could result, with ultimate control of the Central Committee the prize in 1967.

The ultra-liberal California Democratic Council, equally concerned with Democratic Central Committee politics, also is interested in the proposed initiative because it would guarantee the right of volunteer organizations to make pre-primary endorsements, a practice dearly cherished by the CDC, and vigorously opposed by its arch foe, Speaker Unruh.

And so the CDC and CRA may form a strange alliance, giving California another incredible political year.

Crime Can Be Curbed

The growing crime rate throughout the nation is a source of deep concern to all good citizens. It is such a serious problem that President Johnson has taken an important step toward its solution by appointing a blue-ribbon national committee to study all aspects of crime—its origin, growth and prevention.

That something can be done to curb lawlessness with the tools we now have has been hearteningly demonstrated in New York City. For a long time the city's subway system has been terrorized by hoodlums and vicious criminals. Last April the police department took the action so many people have said is the one sure deterrent to crime anywhere: it put more uniformed and armed policemen on the scene. Eight hundred officers were assigned to patrol all subway trains between the hours of 8 p.m. and 4 a.m.

The results? A spectacular decrease in felonies of 60 per cent. The New York transit commission called it "the most successful effort in the control of crime anywhere in the United States."

As the Wall Street Journal commented, ultimate solutions to the crime problem go much deeper, of course, than the visible presence of well prepared policemen, but New York's experience "is welcome evidence that foresight and action can have positive results in the war on crime."

Too Much, Too Soon

The difficulty of putting high ideals into practical operation are many and manifest, as man has long since discovered during his centuries of struggle to achieve his full destiny.

This difficulty is evidenced in the inevitable power plays that accompany the civil rights program, the war on poverty. It is evidenced in the United Nations, where idealism gets short shrift in the great scramble of self interest. Now it is being evidenced in the troubles besetting such highly motivated international groups as the Organization of American States and the Organization of African Unity.

Each of these organizations was scheduled to hold an important conference this summer. Each has encountered a disabling clash of interests, suspicions, uncertainties and fiscal policies.

To record these dilemmas is not to condemn the organizations. Men must work together on all levels—economic, social, political—if we are, indeed, ever to achieve worldwide peace and health and happiness. It simply is unfortunate that in our idealistic efforts to achieve Utopia, we sometimes ask too much of too many, too soon.

Here's a story I heard recently and just thought I would pass it on to you for what it is worth... seems that Fred, Robert and Walter Richter were sitting on a curb in Sierra Madre as small boys. Robert had a model airplane and Fred had a red fire engine, while Walter was reading Esquire.

—CT—
An elderly gentleman, knowing the boys, stopped and asked what they wanted to be when they grew up. Robert had an immediate answer, "An airplane pilot," while Robert explained that he wanted to be "a fireman."

—CT—
Walter, after a couple of minutes, looked up from his magazine and replied... "To heck with the details, I just want to grow up."... and Walter did, too, a very nice, well thought of gentleman... and now reads "Playboy" also.

—CT—
In closing the column for this week, let me leave you with this bit of sage humor... Marriage is an institution that teaches a man regularity, frugality, temperance, forbearance, and many other splendid virtues that he wouldn't need if he had stayed single, which I am not in favor of, I hope, I hope, I hope.

S.M. Shell Station Offers Drivers Test

points out that nearly half of a special panel of 1,800 persons, representing a cross-section of U.S. drivers, either failed the "National Drivers Test" or rated "poor."

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said this means that more Americans need to be made aware of their shortcomings as drivers and improve their driving skills and habits.

He expressed the hope that the second telecast of the "National Drivers Test" before the Labor Day week end would help to reduce the traffic toll over the holiday.

An analysis of the scores from the special panel reveals a number of interesting facts, the National Safety Council points out.

The average score for the entire group was 51 out of a possible 80 points. The Council characterized this as a barely passing score.

Professional drivers did no better, their scores also averaging 51. Those in the panel who had had driver education had the highest average, 53.

The panel was separated into three age groups: under 26, 26 to 45, and over 45. Those over 45 had the worst average of any category, 48. Those under 26 years had an average of 52, while the middle age group had an average of 51.

Are men or women better drivers? The panel results indicated men are. They averaged 52, while the women averaged 49.

College-educated panelists scored an average of 52; high school graduates, 50; and those who did not finish high school, 48.

The August 30 telecast of the "National Drivers Test" will give a person an opportunity to compare himself with others in his age, sex and education groups, says Mr. Warden of the Sierra Madre Shell Service.

The "National Drivers Test" television program has aroused tremendous interest throughout the country. More than 16 million test forms were distributed by CBS and Shell before the first show. An estimated 14 million more were printed and distributed by business firms, civic organizations, government agencies and newspapers throughout the country.

Afterwards nearly a million viewers mailed in completed test forms. This was a phenomenal response, according to experts, who gauge reaction to mass media.

CBS and Shell have received hundreds of complimentary letters, including many from governors, U.S. senators and state safety directors. Many writers asked that the show be televised again and others requested a film of it.

Mr. Warden of Sierra Madre Shell says Shell has also made the first show into a 45-minute, 16mm film which will be available on free loan from the Shell Film Library to traffic safety groups, schools, business, industrial and civic organizations. With each film will be a copy of the test form which can be reproduced.

Unemployment Tax Up 27%

State Unemployment To Be Federalized If Bill Passes

California legislators will be stripped of unemployment insurance responsibility, the House Ways and Means Committee was told today, if an administration bill to federalize unemployment insurance is passed.

This was the prediction of Willard Z. Carr, Jr., of the Los Angeles law firm, Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, speaking for California employers opposing H. R. 8282 by Congressman Wilbur D. Mills, Committee on Ways and Means chairman, which would impose federal standards on state unemployment insurance systems.

Carr credited the California Legislature with doing a commendable job in developing the state's unemployment insurance program over the past three decades. "California lawmakers," said Carr, "have shown ingenuity in legislating a program that fits California. They also have demonstrated their willingness to experiment, legislating innovations that have made the California unemployment insurance program a model for other states to follow."

Protesting federal assumption of State Legislatures' authority to decide what benefits will be paid for how long to what workers, Carr charged that the Federal Government had devised "magic formulas" in an attempt to standardize the benefit and coverage provisions of all states' unemployment insurance laws.

"If the bill were in effect today," Carr said, "the top weekly benefits in California would be $80 instead of the recently enacted $85. Persons who worked only 20 weeks in the previous year could draw State benefits under the proposal for 26 weeks — more weeks of benefits than they had of employment. The measure would work to the distinct advantage of seasonal and other short-time workers."

The effect of the proposal to pay more benefits for a longer time to more people, Carr advised the committee, would be that California employers' unemployment insurance taxes would rise by 27 per cent — an increase of $133 million. This is in spite of the fact that California business even now pays higher average taxes to support the program than do employers in any other state except Alaska and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Carr urged the committee to turn its attention instead to enacting a stand-by program of recession benefits to lengthen the period of payments whenever jobs are hard to find. California has had such an extended duration program ever since the California Legislature enacted it in 1959.

Beatles Arrive At Undisclosed Airport In L. A.

When the Beatles arrive in Los Angeles for their appearance in the Hollywood Bowl, they'll land at an undisclosed airport in Southern California.

Both the time and place of arrival will remain undisclosed in order to avoid the dangerous congregation of many thousands of children, it was revealed today by the Los Angeles Department of Airports.

Airport officials said today that the Beatles agreed to skip an airport reception of any kind regardless of which field they decided to land.

They will be flying to Los Angeles in a private aircraft, which can land at any one of many airports in the area.

Police and airport authorities urge parents to keep their youngsters at home since the safety of the Beatles' youthful fans is at stake in large crowds. Children have been crushed and injured at other airports when over-excited at the sight of the Beatles.

The decision not to announce the airport was reached after a conference of police and fire department officials, the Federal Aviation Agency, sponsors of the Beatles' Los Angeles appearance and the Department of Airports' authorities.

Penny Ward

enezer, had to stay home to help maintain the farm and seven brothers and sisters while the others were off to war.) One of Penny's sustaining documents, in addition to detailed genealogy record sheets provided by her grandmother, Mrs. Ione Ward and her great-aunt, Mrs. Rockwell Kempton (both long students and recorders of genealogy) was a remarkably delineated 1861 photograph of five of "the Hadley Men," complete with Zouave uniforms and most serious demeanors.

Coincidentally, Penny served as Miss Navy and Miss Armed Forces for the Pasadena area for 1965, and has seven uncles, and her father, who served in the army and navy in World War II.

She also has great-great-grand uncles who served in the Confederate Army.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. (Peter) Ward of Sierra Madre, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ione Ward, all former publishers of the News.

Lesson-Sermon For Sunday Told

The lesson-sermon to be read in Christian Science services Sunday will underscore the need for people today to demonstrate the power and practicality of Christ Jesus' teachings.

Passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook on "Christ Jesus" will include His promise as recorded by the Apostle John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also" (John 14: 12).

Related readings will contain the following lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science: "My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself,—when he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind. . . . The purpose of His (Jesus') great life-work extends through time and includes universal humanity" (pp. 55, 328).

connected with service appealed to them so greatly they started the wheels of progress in motion. When the building became vacant at 43 North Baldwin, these two boys were interested, so they made the necessary application to the City Planning Commission and the City Council that would allow them to accomplish their dreams. The green light given to them, the long days and months of planning were put into effect, and now they are ready for the general public to give them the once over and approval.

The Grand Opening is set for this Saturday, August 28, and a host of door prizes await those that pay them a visit on this day, besides there will be refreshments and free hamburgers as well as demonstrations and displays of the most modern appliances that these boys could obtain. Waste King and its entire line of well constructed and well thought of products will be represented by Gem Plumbing. American Standard bathroom stools and lavatories, Hoyt Hot Water Heaters and of course the well known top brand of water faucets and shower heads by Moen.

This is a new experience to us states both Hal and Gordon, but we have put our faith and family jewels into feeling that this is what Sierar Madreans and people of this area want and need, and when we add sales and service to our already plumbing business we have completed the circle that should be everything desired by the homeowner.

With Hal and Gordon and their families in this new venture is Pearl Lutzow, secretary, who has been with the firm since February of 1957, and two well qualified repair men in the plumbing field are Dick Messner and Wayne Gagnon.

Former News Publisher's Son In New Jersey

Highland Ave., all former publishers of the Sierra Madre News, completed his BS degree in physics at the University of California, Los Angeles, in August, and is now with Bell Telephone Laboratories of Whippany, New Jersey, as engineer-program designer of the technical research staff. At the same time he is working, under the sponsorship of Bell Lab, toward his master's degree in mathematics.

Former young staff "assistant" at the News, Peter, affiliated with Harvey Mudd College and Duke University, with his wife, both graduates of Pasadena High School, journeyed to New Jersey via Saginaw, Michigan, visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Ione Ward, and his great-aunt, Mrs. Rockwell Kempton, the latter a frequent visitor to Sierra Madre.
